This book explores the ways in which statistical models, methods, and research designs can be used to open new possibilities for APC analysis. Within a single, consistent HAPC-GLMM statistical modeling framework, the authors synthesize APC models and methods for three research designs: age-by-time period tables of population rates or proportions, repeated cross-section sample surveys, and accelerated longitudinal panel studies. They show how the empirical application of the models to various problems leads to many fascinating findings on how outcome variables develop along the age, period, and cohort dimensions.

As relações entre a dinâmica populacional e a economia estão no centro das análises sobre o crescimento econômico no longo prazo desde as formulações de Malthus. Este livro preenche uma lacuna na área de estudos sobre o mercado de trabalho brasileiro. Mercado de trabalho coloca em evidência a importância de atributos pessoais (sexo, raça e cor), de gerações e ciclos de vida (idade), aspectos essenciais para a determinação da estrutura salarial e da dinâmica de emprego/desemprego no mercado de trabalho.
