classic in which boys are forced to dig holes day in and day out is now available with a splashy new look. Stanley Yelnats is under a curse. A curse that began with his no-good-dirty -rotten-pig-stealing-great-greatgrandfather and has since followed generations of Yelnatses. Now Stanley Page 49/63

has been unjustly sent to a boys' detention center, Camp Green Lake, where the boys build character by spending all day, every day digging holes exactly five feet wide and five feet deep. There is no lake at Camp Green Lake. But there are an awful lot of holes. It doesn't take long for Page 50/63

Stanley to realize there's more than character improvement going on at Camp Green Lake. The boys are digging holes because the warden is looking for something. But what could be buried under a dried-up lake? Stanley tries to dig up the truth in this inventive and darkly humorous tale of Page 51/63 crime and punishment—and redemption. Includes a double bonus: an excerpt from Small Steps, the follow-up to Holes, as well as an excerpt from Louis Sachar's new middle-grade novel, Fuzzy Mud. "A smart jigsaw puzzle of a novel." -- The New York Times WINNER OF THE Page 52/63 stories and biblical takeaways, bestselling author Matthew Barnett calls readers to set aside their fears and boldly embrace the life-changing adventure of becoming the hands and feet of Jesus to the broken people right outside their front doors. You will soon discover that "random acts of Page 57/63 kindness" are not so random after all.
