This thesis deals
with Rare Earth
Elements (REE),
especially with
neodymium used in permanent
magnets, from a

very scientific basis
by providing basic research data.

Despite the fact
that REE are newsworthy and
very important
elements for a considerable
bandwidth of
today's
technologies,
accompanied by
the monopolistic

that the four application areas, namely computer hard disk drives (HDD), mobile phones, wind turbines and e-mobility (automotive traction), account for about 80% of the global annual neodymium-demand. The methodology was a laboratory analysis of the composition of used magnets for HDDs and mobile phones and a literature and official report analysis of wind turbine and automotive neodymium use. The result was amazing and the hypothesis had to be withdrawn as these four areas only account for about 20% of neodymium use. This result raises some questions concerning actual use and thus potential recycling options.
